RULES

Training & Isometric Rules

TRAINING RULES

Power	Never to failure. Stop when speed, height or explosiveness drops.
Main Strength	RIR 1-2. Leave 1-2 good reps in reserve.
Accessories	Controlled reps, generally RIR 1-2. Don't deliberately push to failure.
Core	Stop when technique or position breaks. Don't chase failure.
Isolation Finishers	Push to technical failure.
AMRAP Finishers	Go to technical failure, not sloppy failure.
Carries	Stop when posture, grip or movement quality gets worse.
Progression	When you hit the top of the rep range at the prescribed RIR, add weight next session.
Finishers	Optional. Skip them when you're fatigued.

ISOMETRIC RULES

START isos	OI primers: 3-5s at 80-90% intent. Build tension over about 1s and never jerk into it. Rest 60s between reps and 2-3 min before power work. Skip them if you're sore or slept badly.
MID / END isos	Holds at RPE 6-8. Stop when the position breaks, not when you're exhausted.
Breathing	Breathe the whole time. Don't hold your breath.
Progression	Add 5s per week up to the top of the range, then add load. For OI primers, raise intent instead of adding time.
Finishers	Skip finisher isos whenever you skip finishers.
Deload	Every 4th week, cut hold times by about 30%.
